

"A KNIGHT'S TALE – A GENUINE
COLLABORATIVE INDOOR TEAM EXPERIENCE."

HELLS BELLS

A CREATIVE CHALLENGE PERFECT FOR:

- Engagement
- Teamwork
- Group interaction
- Rewarding
- Creative thinking
- ...and more!

IN-PERSON TEAM BUILDING EVENT

HELLS BELLS

Activity Description

A Knight's Tale – a genuine collaborative indoor team event

'Hells Bells, a Knight's Tale' is a brilliant, unique, fun, multi-dimensional event, with all participants actively contributing towards a common end goal.

The purpose of the event is for attendees to answer a single question – “What was the time of the rescue?” The answer is revealed through completion of a series of different constructional, mental, musical, creative and logical tasks and puzzles.

The deliberately varied nature of the content means that there is something which appeals to everyone within your group. The game is deliberately designed so that the success of each task is inter-dependent with the success of other tasks. This encourages your group to work closely together and share information.

A physical enactment unfolds the overriding story in the grand finale. The story is also told by an accompanying giant automaton made up by a number of mechanical structures which trigger each other in sequence... and deliver the verdict; were you correct or not?

This event is not to be missed!

Learning Outcomes

Leadership
Communication
One Team – One Goal

Activity Type

Collaborative
Cerebral
Constructional

Watch the trailer here

HELLS BELLS

Timeline and Logistics

Timeline based on a 2 hour event:

- 10 Mins Professional presenter welcomes everyone, explains the challenge ahead and poses a question that the group must answer using the equipment and paperwork available to them.
- 90 Mins The group have to complete all tasks, challenges and complete the construction of a series of structures in readiness to answer the question.
- 20 Mins The grand finale.

Logistical notes

- This event can be delivered with 6, 12, 20 or 40 teams.
- Based on a 6 team event the space requirements would be minimum 8m x 8m room.
- Ideal for 2 hours

Client Testimonials

Here's what previous clients thought of Hells Bells...

“I think Hells Bells is a very good event as it is more suitable for getting people to work together even when not familiar with each other. It is also ideal for demonstrating the strengths of teamwork and the advantage of working in an organised way, in parallel, in task-oriented groups.”

AIRBUS

“We have run a number of “team building events” but Blue Hat’s Hells Bells stands out as being one of the most challenging, frustrating, but ultimately rewarding, that we have experienced. The intellectual challenges were pitched at just the right level – initially impossible, but with collaboration and discussion, some intended and some good fortune, the light bulb moments started to come. A resounding success, and we’ll be recommending Blue Hat to our colleagues.”

NHS

Read more reviews here

“It was such a good afternoon. I've had so many positive comments from delegates. To engage the whole team, which included 70% international delegates, was phenomenal. The whole Blue Hat team were simply fantastic. The whole experience was just perfect.”

SONY

“It really did exceed my expectations; the feedback we’ve had from delegates has been fantastic. Hells Bells highlighted our message effectively: the benefits of working as a team rather than individually, the whole being greater than the sum of the parts.”

Cognizant